

Barbara Sage

Barbara is retired from being an administrator and teacher for a non-profit choice school in Milwaukee. Ms. Sage oversaw the everyday educational programs and developed different areas of study in Geography, History and Science yearly. Her other duties included meeting financial obligations, hiring, enrollment, scheduling school events, field trips and other numerous commitments of an administrator. Ms. Sage has a degree in Montessori from Midwest Montessori Institute and numerous classes take in Human Resource at Concordia University. She is passionate about all types of education. So much so that she developed her own mantra she said to her students: “You need to learn for a lifetime and not for the moment.” She also feels Home of Hope’s mission is directly related to her educational ideas and mantra. Ms. Sage feels she will be able to add to governing and educational development, programing, and success of Home of Hope School due to her 40 years in administration of running a choice school as well as her education. Her retirement is spent with daily exercise or walking. She often travels to Florida where she visits her three children and two grandchildren. She can’t wait to add more of her time to the physical development and governance of Home of Hope School.
